

ROBBER HELD UP RESTAURANT.

$700 in Money and a Gold Watch Were Stolen.

Los Angeles, Cal., Jan. 27.—Two masked men held up the Beaumont restaurant at the corner of Fifth and Main streets early this morning taking about $700 in money from the cash register, a gold watch of the proprietor, fired three shots to frighten the guests and made their escape.

They wore handkerchief masks and carried revolvers in their hands.

While one of them drove the waiters and cooks into the second story, the second stood up the manager of the place, took his watch and then rifled the register. A number of guests were in the place, but they fled in every direction.

Many people were on the street and to frighten them the robbers fired three shots and disappeared into a dark street.

TRAIN STUCK IN SNOW DRIFT.

The Famous Twentieth Century Limited Caught in Storm.

New York, Jan. 27.—Among the trains stalled on the New York Central railroad is the Twentieth Century limited, due in Chicago this morning.

The train is stuck in the drifts near Irvington, about 50 men and women aboard, who will not be able to communicate with the outer world until 500 workmen sent from New York can clear the tracks.

The passengers will have plenty of light and heat and there is a well stocked dining car attached. For several hours after the train left New York the dispatchers completely lost track of it. A member of the crew succeeded in reaching a telephone late at night and sent a message to Tarrytown telling of the dilemma.

Snow was drifting in about the train every minute, he said.

FILIPINOS ON WARPATH.

Manila, Jan. 27.—In response to the request of Governor Benjamin Wright, General Corbin will send to the province of Cavite, the Third troop of the Second cavalry under command of Major F. B. Sibley, to assist the colonial forces now fighting with the Ladronez near Slang. Later advances place the number of Ladronez at 300. The fighting continues.

The leaders of this band of Ladronez which recently attacked the town of San Francisco de Melabon and captured the wife and two children of former Governor Trias now demands a ransom for the release of the captives.

Kentucky Town Suffers by Fire.

Mount Sterling, Ky., Jan. 27.—Fire, which broke out early today in Stockton's tailoring establishment, destroyed Enoch's Bargain house, Mrs. R. E. L. Biggstaff's business house, the Masonic temple, Oldham Bros. dry good house, and damaged the Mount Sterling national bank, the Watson Lodge of Odd Fellows and the A. O. U. W. lodge. The Red Men lost all their paraphernalia. The loss is estimated at $100,000, believed to be fully insured.

Florida Flyer Is Wrecked.

Augusta, Ga., Jan. 27.—The Atlantic flyer was wrecked near the city limits tonight. The heavy tourist train was struck by some freight cars using an intersecting track, turning one coach over, but doing only minor damage to the passenger coaches. The conductor and two negro passengers in the baggage car did not have time to jump and went over with the car. All were bruised, but not seriously hurt. This was the second trip of the train which connects Augusta with the Florida resorts.

Death From Runaway Accident.

Houston, Tex., Jan. 27.—Clarence Hough, president of the Century Furniture company, of Michigan, died here as a result of injuries received in a runaway accident Nov. 28. The remains were taken to Beaumont, embalmed and shipped to Grand Rapids for interment. He owned extensive lands in East Texas and was reputed to be a millionaire. The body was accompanied by his brother, wife and child.

Croker's Body Arrives in Gotham.

New York, Jan. 27.—The body of Frank Croker, son of Richard Croker, who died as a result of an automobile accident at Ormond, Fla., reached this city today. Accompanying the body was the dead man's mother and other members of his family. SOLOON OF ATHENS.

His Definition of the Most Perfect Form of Government.

"What is the most perfect form of government?" was once propounded at the court of Periander, king of Corinth, one of the seven wise men of Greece. His six fellows were present, and of them Bias answered first, giving as his opinion, "Where the laws have no superior." Thales of Miletus, the great astronomer, declared, "Where the people are neither too rich nor too poor."

In his turn said Anacharsis, the Scythian, "Where virtue is honored and vice detested." Said Pittacus of Mitylene, "Where dignities are always conferred upon the virtuous and never upon the base." Said Cleobulus, "Where the citizens fear blame more than punishment." Said Chilo, the Spartan, "Where the laws are more regarded than the orators."

The last to reply was the youngest but wisest of them all, Solon of Athens, who said, "Where an injury done to the meanest subject is an insult to the whole community."—London Telegraph.

His Glasses.

He was wearing his first pair of glasses, and at first they afforded great relief, but at the end of a month there was a retrogression. Somehow, polish the lens as he would, the vision appeared to be weaker. So he went back to his oculist and said he thought the glasses "weren't strong enough."

The oculist stepped aside for a minute, then handed his customer what apparently was another pair. Trying them drew forth the exclamation:

"Why, these are much better! I can see now as well as when I first wore my glasses."

Then he was initiated into one of the little secrets of the trade. The oculist had merely cleansed each lens with a little soap and water.—New York Post.

Developed Genius.

Lady—Do you think that your inventive genius was hereditary or developed? Inventor—I owe it all to my dear wife. When we were first married I used to stay late at the club, and my wife cross questioned me severely whenever I came home late. The necessity of inventing fresh excuses taxed me to the utmost, and this faculty became so abnormally developed that as soon as I turned it to business account I made a fortune with ease.

Spoiled Her Beauty.

Harriet Howard of 209 W. 35th St., New York, at one time had her beauty spoiled with skin trouble. She writes: "I had salt rheum, or eczema, for years, but nothing would cure it, until I used Bucklen's Arnica Salve." A quick and sure healer for cuts, burns and sores. Twenty-five cents at all druggists.

No Longer on the Map.

"What makes you so late?" asked Tim's father, who in the boy's absence had had to see to the evening chores himself.

"Teacher kept me in."

"What for?"

"'Cause I couldn't find Moscow on the map."

"Couldn't find Moscow? And I'd like to know who could, then! Why, I remember hearing tell of Moscow being burned when I was a boy! It's an outrage to put such nonsensical questions to children what's there to learn something useful. I'll look into that and let yer teacher know I ain't been elected on the school board for nothing!"—London Globe.

Ingenious.

"Jimmy," said the teacher after reading the youngster's "note from his father" excusing Jimmy's absence from school the day before, "it seems to me your father's writing is very much like yours."

"Yes," replied Jimmy, unabashed, "father ain't had no education, and I'm learnin' him."
